Frequently Asked Questions

How do I register for classes?
Your choices for classes will be forwarded to an academic advisor, who will review the availability of those classes and will contact you prior to your arrival. You may be able to make changes to those classes upon arrival at the university during the International Student Orientation.

What subjects can I take as an exchange student?
Most courses with the exception of Nursing and Physical Therapy course that are available for each semester

How many credits can I take as an exchange student? You must take a full-time course of study to fulfill the requirements of your visa. That is a minimum of 12 credits for undergraduates, 6 credits for graduates. Maximum credits you can take as an exchange student is 15 credits for undergraduate and 9 credits for graduate students.

Do I need to submit TOEFL/IELTS scores? If English is not your first language, 80 on the Internet-based TOEFL is required at the time you apply for admission. The University also accepts an IELTS score of 6.5. Please provide an official copy of the score; student copies will not be accepted.

Do I need to provide transcripts as part of my Exchange Student Application? You must submit official academic transcripts from your home institution. This is necessary to determine if you have met the necessary prerequisites for the courses that you have requested.

Where can I find information on class offerings and schedules? The course bulletin, where you can find course descriptions and schedules, is available on-line at https://ssbprd.scranton.edu/appprd/syaclst.main

If I want to enroll in a degree program later, will the credits I complete as an exchange student apply to a degree program?
There is no limit to the number of undergraduate semester credits that may be accepted at the undergraduate level; however, your last 36 semester credits must be earned at the University of Scranton. To enroll as a degree-seeking undergraduate, submit an application for undergraduate admission, application fee, and official transcripts from your high school and all colleges and universities attended. If you are admitted, your academic adviser will determine how courses taken as an undergraduate exchange student will apply to the specific undergraduate degree program you choose. Graduate courses taken as an undergraduate non-degree student will not be accepted into a graduate degree program.

Up to 6 semester credits of graduate courses taken as a non-degree graduate student may be accepted toward a graduate degree program. To enroll as a degree-seeking graduate student, submit an application for graduate admission, application fee, and official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended, proof of any degrees earned, GRE scores, and 3 letters of recommendation.

Can I live in the residence halls or in University apartments as an exchange student?
You are in fact required to stay in the residence hall during the exchange program. As an exchange student, you are guaranteed a spot in university housing. This environment gives you the opportunity to learn from other students in an atmosphere of understanding and mutual respect. Complete the housing application included in this packet and return it with the rest of your application materials. The housing portion of your application will be forwarded to the Office of Residence Life after you have been offered admission to the University of Scranton.
What kind of housing does the University offer?
The University offers housing for approximately 2,600 students: 16 residence halls on campus house the majority of these students, while the remaining students live in University-owned houses and apartment buildings. The housing options available consist of small-to-medium size residences including traditional and more contemporary "quad-style" halls, houses and apartments. The University also has an apartment-community specifically focused on bringing together domestic and international students. Regardless of the type of residence hall, bedrooms serve 1 or 2 students. All residences are located either on campus proper or on the campus perimeter within easy walking distance. They each offer, wireless Internet, ports to connect TVs to cable (TVs are not provided), reliable maintenance, and 24-hour security.

Each student will have his/her own furniture in the bedroom including a bed, desk and chair, closet (or similar piece of furniture), and a dresser. The beds are size “extra-long twin.” The University provides an initial set of linens for the bedroom including sheets, blanket, and a pillow. Washing machines and dryers are available in most residence halls and some houses. All of these machines are coin operated and many are also Royal Card operated.

The Office of Residence Life staffs each building with Resident Assistants (RAs), who are student staff members, and also has 4 Area Coordinators (professional staff) that live on campus as well. These staff members are trained to offer students support and to maintain an educational environment. Each region, or group of buildings, is supervised by an Area Coordinator who supports students through personal and academic challenges, and are also a resource for connecting with maintenance.

Housekeeping
Light housekeeping is provided in the residence halls and houses, and to a considerable extent the housekeeping that custodians are able to accomplish is determined by the manner in which the students maintain their rooms. It is the responsibility of the students to remove litter from their rooms on a timely basis. Custodians do not make student beds and they are not expected to handle dirty clothes, move heavy furniture, vacuum student-owned carpeting, etc.

Mail
Mailbox assignments are made in conjunction with building assignments. Box numbers then become part of each student’s mailing address. Mailboxes are located in the DeNaples Student Center. Mail is delivered once a day, Monday through Saturday. A notice is placed in a mailbox if a package, certified receipt or registered letter, etc., has arrived for the student. Students then pick up their package or letter at the Mail Department office located in the DeNaples Student Center. A photo I.D. must be presented by students.

Meal Plans
The University offers a choice of three meal plans providing unlimited meals, 14 or 10 meals per week. These plans are available only when The University is officially opened and NOT during vacation periods.
