Catherine Manley Coffey, a 1986 graduate of The University of Scranton, died tragically in an automobile accident on June 7, 2002, in New Jersey.

Cate was to be installed as president of the 38,000-member University of Scranton National Alumni Society in January 2003. She would have been the first woman to hold this position.

Cate, a native of the Bellevue section of Scranton, attended Bishop Hannan High School and graduated, with honors, with a B.S. in Accounting from the University. After participating in an internship with the accounting firm Coopers & Lybrand in New York during her senior year she joined C&L full-time in the fall of 1986.

A certified public accountant, the former Catherine Manley worked for the investment banking firm Lehman Brothers since 1992 in Lower Manhattan. She was promoted to Senior Vice-President in the spring of 2002. She lived in Madison, N.J., and is survived by her husband Ed and two children, Michaela and Claire.

As a lasting tribute to Cate’s spirit and friendship, The University of Scranton is dedicating the clock tower on campus in her memory.
