Student Responsibility Form

I have received the Program Manual for my graduate counseling program at the University of Scranton and, if I have questions concerning these materials, I have asked or will ask for clarification in COUN 500, 520, or 530, which are the Professional Issues courses for my specialty, or I will ask my mentor or program director.

I understand that I am responsible for the information presented in this program manual. My signature below confirms that:

I have READ the manual

I have SIGNED UP for the list serv (p.21)

I ACKNOWLEDGE that various clearances (such as child abuse and PA criminal records check) will be required prior to any clinical experiences in the counseling program. If I am aware of any issues/concerns that may impact the process or outcome of these clearances, I will talk to my mentor and/or program director PRIOR to practicum. A criminal record can impact movement in the counseling program and/or licensure, which is part of the discussion that I will have with my mentor and/or program director.

I AGREE to adhere to the policies and procedures and student responsibilities detailed in this program manual.

UNIVERSITY OF SCRANTON
DEPARTMENT OF COUNSELING AND HUMAN SERVICES
GRADUATE PROGRAMS IN COUNSELING

INTRODUCTION

This manual is designed to provide information on the three graduate counseling programs at the University of Scranton. The Clinical Mental Health Counseling, Rehabilitation Counseling, and School Counseling programs are offered through The J.A. Panuska College of Professional Studies by the faculty of the Department of Counseling and Human Services. Our department is located on the 4th floor of McGurrin Hall. In addition to the foundational Counseling programs, the department offers an undergraduate program in Counseling and Human Services and a Certificate of Advanced Graduate Study (CAGS) in Professional Counseling.

If you are a prospective student, we are pleased that you have requested information and are considering earning your Master of Science degree with us. This manual, along with a Graduate Catalog (available online) will help to answer many of the “most often asked” questions from prospective students. Should you require further information, please do not hesitate to contact the specific Program Director (see listing on page 6) or the Department Chair at (570) 941-4127 for Fall 2015 and (570) 941-4308 for Spring 2016. The department secretary (570-941-4236) can direct you to additional resources. Additional information is also available on the department’s website at www.scranton.edu/department/chs.

If you have already been admitted to a program, the faculty extends best wishes and good luck as you start your professional preparation and academic program. We also offer our knowledge, support, and guidance while you are working toward the successful completion of your Master's degree. This manual provides information on the faculty, curriculum, policies, and procedures that are integral parts of our departmental culture. A thorough review of the manual will help you to understand our learning environment and will facilitate your successful journey through our training.

We strive to create a learning environment that is scholarly and rigorous, along with a program of professional preparation that is demanding and rewarding. Professional preparation includes academic work, challenging experiences and reflection, clinical practice under supervision, and use of advanced technologies. Openness, mutual sharing, and self-discovery are important parts of the learning process. We provide a rich and varied environment in which many different instructors, teaching philosophies, and methods are represented. Students are expected to perform in a professional manner and are encouraged to think and interact freely.

The curriculum is a blend of knowledge and practical experience. In addition to acquiring specific competencies and skills, students are also provided with opportunities for self-exploration and personal/professional growth. It is our belief that the process of facilitating growth in others – a hallmark of the counseling profession – can occur only when the helping professional possesses a high degree of self-awareness and a desire to explore avenues for continued growth and professional development.

Constructive feedback on the program, its courses, and its faculty is encouraged through formal program and course evaluation procedures and informal discussions. We suggest that you talk directly with course instructors and your Program Director about individual concerns and constructive curricular change.

Our goal is to provide you with the knowledge and skills necessary to be a competent, professional, highly functioning counseling professional. Through our mutual efforts this goal can be achieved.

Again, thank you for your involvement with our programs. Please feel free to contact any of us if there is some way in which we may be of assistance to you and/or to facilitate your learning process. The Faculty and Staff of the Department of Counseling and Human Services look forward to working with you.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY OF SCRANTON

The University of Scranton is a private, Catholic, co-educational institution. Founded in 1888 as Saint Thomas College, the school received its University Charter in 1938. In 1942, Scranton became the twenty-fourth of twenty-eight Jesuit colleges and universities in the United States.

The Panuska College of Professional Studies is one of three major academic divisions within the University. Graduate students in this College can pursue Master's degrees and various types of certification. Our graduate programs have received professional accreditations from the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) and the Council on Rehabilitation Education (CORE).

The Panuska College of Professional Studies houses not only the Counseling and Human Services Department but six other health-service related departments.

ABOUT THE COUNSELING AND HUMAN SERVICES DEPARTMENT

The Department offers coursework leading to Master of Science degrees in Clinical Mental Health Counseling, Rehabilitation Counseling, and School Counseling. A Certificate of Advanced Graduate Study is also available as well as an Accelerated Bachelor of Science Program allowing undergraduate students to pursue limited graduate credits. Chi Delta Rho is the departmental chapter of Chi Sigma Iota, the International Counseling Academic and Professional Honor Society. Our department is comprised of 11 full time faculty members and one professional staff member.

MISSION STATEMENT: Counseling and Human Services

The Department of Counseling and Human Services in the Panuska College of Professional Studies at the University of Scranton seeks to train counseling and human service professionals who are self-reflective practitioners, competent caregivers, and community leaders. Special emphasis is placed on the achievement of excellence in academic and professional competencies.

The Department is committed to the enhancement of human development across the lifespan. Each program prepares students for work in a variety of settings (agency, school, etc.) as counseling and human service professionals who situate their work in cultural, family, and community (local, regional, national, and global) contexts.

CHS DEPARTMENT CONNECTION WITH JESUIT EDUCATION

Many core beliefs and practices of the Counseling and Human Services professions complement the Jesuit tradition and Ignatian mission of the University of Scranton. We know that an active and positive regard for each person creates an environment conducive to high-quality clinical care and positive human development. Caring for each unique person—mind, body & spirit—and assisting each one to reach her or his human and God-given potential is highly honored in the Ignatian tradition. This is called “cura personalis,” both in ministry and education.

We know that the building blocks of human wholeness and dignity come from the quality of relationships that surround the developing human being. For persons to reach their full God-given potential, society has a vested interest in the quality of our families, our parenting, and our facilitating structures. Counseling and Human Service professionals work at the nexus of these issues, assisting individuals, families, and human systems to grow and mature. Engaging in advocacy and social justice, with a mutually local and global perspective, are intrinsic parts of this work and in keeping with the Jesuit vision of God’s working alongside companions in service “to set the world on fire.”
As professional counselor educators, we value the contributions that empathic care, critical thinking, deep personal reflection, sensitivity to diversity, and systemic leadership make to our clients and wider society. St. Ignatius and his companions also valued these activities, highlighting the importance of discernment and the leadership of "magis," always searching for "the more universal good."
These are hallmarks of Ignatian spirituality.

COUNSELING ACCREDITATIONS

The Rehabilitation Counseling program is nationally accredited by the Council on Rehabilitation Education (CORE). Both the Clinical Mental Health and School Counseling programs are nationally accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). These are specialized accrediting bodies recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA).

These accrediting bodies determine standards of quality in counselor education and evaluate preparation programs’ adherence to these standards. CORE and CACREP accreditations are recognized hallmarks of high-quality, graduate education in counseling. The University of Scranton is one of a handful of institutions in Pennsylvania and in the Northeastern United States to hold both accreditations simultaneously. We have done so since 1992.

The School Counseling program is approved by the Pennsylvania Department of Education. Students completing the program meet the academic requirements for certification as an Elementary and Secondary School Counselor (K-12).
GENERAL INFORMATION

PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

All students admitted to the counseling programs are encouraged to become members of national and state professional organizations.

The American Counseling Association (ACA) is a national professional organization with 20 specialty divisions representing over 55,000 professional counselors. ACA is dedicated to the growth and enhancement of the counseling profession. ACA helps counseling professionals develop their skills and expand their knowledge base. Student members receive Counseling Today, ACA's monthly periodical; quarterly journal of counseling research, Journal of Counseling and Development; and the bi-weekly e-news bulletin, ACA e-News. Students who join ACA divisions receive the newsletters and journals of those divisions.

Clinical Mental Health Counseling students may be interested in the American Mental Health Counselors Association (AMHCA) or other specialty divisions of ACA congruent with their interests. The journal of AMHCA is the Journal of Mental Health Counseling.

Rehabilitation Counseling program students may be interested in the American Rehabilitation Counseling Association (ARCA), a specialty division of ACA. The National Rehabilitation Association (NRA) is the premier national organization comprised of rehabilitation professionals including rehabilitation counselors. NRA has eleven divisions focusing on specialized rehabilitation issues.

School Counseling program students may be interested in the American School Counselor Association (ASCA), the school counseling affiliated division of ACA. ASCA provides professional development, publications and other resources, research and advocacy to more than 29,000 professional school counselors. The journal of ASCA is The Professional School Counselor.

In these professional organizations student membership dues are quite reasonably priced. Membership has many benefits: professional involvements at professional conferences, publications, access to educational materials, and eligibility for professional liability insurance, legal defense services, professional development activities, and career placement assistance. Membership applications and additional information are available from program faculty, or you can contact the associations directly at the following addresses:

COUNSELOR ENDORSEMENT, CERTIFICATION & LICENSURE

_The Department of Counseling and Human Services endorses certification and licensure of professional counselors and strongly recommends that students pursue the highest levels of certification and licensure appropriate to each student’s education and professional preparation._

REHABILITATION COUNSELING CERTIFICATION

The Commission on Rehabilitation Counselor Certification (CRCC) was established in 1974. The primary purpose of certification is to establish professional standards whereby persons with disabilities, related professionals, agency administrators, and the general public can evaluate the qualifications of persons practicing rehabilitation counseling and to provide assurances that professionals engaged in rehabilitation counseling will meet acceptable standards of quality in practice. Certification is the process whereby a profession gives recognition to an individual who has fulfilled certain requirements or standards, as pre-determined by that profession.

To be eligible to sit for the CRCC examination, applicants must meet all requirements in one of the categories. The two categories most relevant for students in the rehabilitation counseling program at the University of Scranton are:

Category A: For persons having a Master’s degree in Rehabilitation Counseling from a Council on Rehabilitation Education (CORE) accredited program with an internship of 600 clock-hours supervised by a certified Rehabilitation Counselor (CRC).

Category G: For students working towards a Master’s degree in Rehabilitation Counseling. In order to be eligible, a student must [a] be enrolled in a Master’s degree program in rehabilitation counseling that is fully accredited by the Council on Rehabilitation Education (CORE); [b] have completed 75% of the coursework toward a Master’s degree by the application date for the CRCC examination for which he/she is applying; and, [c] have completed an internship in rehabilitation counseling of 600 hours supervised by a CRC by graduation.

A student who applies before the appropriate deadline and qualifies under Category G may sit for the CRCC examination. However, the individual’s examination results, profile, and certificate will be released only when CRCC received an official transcript showing Master’s degree in rehabilitation counseling was granted. The “CRC” designation may not be used by these individuals until they have received their examination profiles indicating that they passed the Certification Examination. Applications are available online at www.crccertification.com.

CLINICAL MENTAL HEALTH COUNSELING AND SCHOOL COUNSELING CERTIFICATION

The National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC) was developed in 1982 to provide a national certification process for counselors. There are several purposes to national certification of counselors. It [a] promotes professional accountability and visibility, [b] identifies to the public and professional peers those counselors who have met specific professional standards, [c] advances cooperation among groups and agencies actively involved in professional credentialing activities, [d] encourages the continuing professional growth and development of counselors, and [e] ensures a national standard developed by counselors.
Graduates of the Clinical Mental Health and School Counseling programs meet all eligibility requirements for recognition as a National Certified Counselor (NCC). Students are eligible to sit for the examination if they graduated the semester prior to or will graduate the semester immediately following an administration of the National Counselor Exam NCE.

If students want to pursue this option, they need to register with the department’s NCE liaison. Students who pass the certification examination will be granted certification upon completion all program requirements. Students who wish to explore other types of counselor credentialing should consult with their program director. For example, specialty certifications of the NBCC include career, gerontology, school, clinical mental health, and addictions. However, certification is not complete until students send an official transcript with their Master’s Degree posted to NBCC. Note: Taking the NCE is also one step in licensure in many states.

Students graduating from a CACREP-accredited program, such as our Clinical Mental Health and School Counseling programs, may take the exam without the requirement of post-Masters counseling experience [Option B].

Refer to the National Board for Certified Counselors web site (www.nbcc.org) for specific eligibility requirements for the NCE.

SCHOOL COUNSELING CERTIFICATION – PENNSYLVANIA DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION (PDE)

The School Counseling Program meets the standards and competencies established by the Pennsylvania Department of Education (PDE) for certification as an Elementary and Secondary School Counselor (PreK-12). Upon completion of our program, students are eligible for the Educational Specialist I Certificate in School Counseling. Applications are available from internship instructors, program directors, or the Education Department Certification Officer. Applications are completed through the Teacher Information Management System (TIMS). TIMS is a central web site for processing and collecting data related to education certification and serves as a link between an educator’s employment data, educational data, and certification record. TIMS is part of the PDE website (www.education.state.pa.us/ or the Education Department at the University of Scranton website (http://www.scranton.edu/academics/pcps/education/).

In addition to the online TIMS application, an application cover sheet is processed through one of the School Counseling Program Directors, who verify that certification requirements are completely met. Application materials and documentation in the form of an advising sheet and/or transcript are sent to the Education Department’s Certifying Officer, who then forwards materials to the Pennsylvania Department of Education. In summary to complete school counselor certification two steps are necessary: (1) complete the TIMS application online and (2) handing a hard copy of the verification to a School Counseling Program Director.

PENNSYLVANIA COUNSELOR LICENSURE

Under Chapter 48 of The Social Workers, Marriage and Family Therapists and Professional Counselors Act (Act 136) the state of Pennsylvania established the State Board of Social Workers, Marriage and Family Therapists and Professional Counselors and initiated a process for licensing counseling professionals. Licensure requirements include completion of 60 semester hours of graduate credits that include specific required course work and clinical instruction and 3,000 hours of supervised clinical experience.

PA State Licensing Board- Licensed Professional Counselor. The following are the detailed requirements and procedures needed to acquire status as a Licensed Professional Counselor in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

1. The applicant is of good moral character.
2. The applicant has successfully met the educational requirements: has successfully completed a planned program of 60 semester hours of graduate coursework in counseling or a field determined by the board by regulation to be closely related to the practice of professional counseling, including a 48-semester-hour master’s degree in counseling or a closely-related field.
3. The applicant has complied with the experience requirements as follows:
an individual meeting the educational requirements must have completed at least three years or 3,000 hours of supervised clinical experience, obtained after the completion of 48 semester hours of graduate coursework. See specific rules and regulations for supervision requirements.

4. The applicant has passed an examination adopted by the board.

5. The application has been accompanied by the application fee.

6. The applicant has not been convicted of a felony (see specific provisions of the Rules and Regulations for details).

Specific course work, clinical instruction and supervised experience requirements, and application materials are available from the State Board of Social Workers, Marriage and Family Therapists and Professional Counselors:

ENDORSEMENT OF STUDENTS

Students who successfully complete all their curricular and clinical training requirements for the Master of Science degree in Clinical Mental Health, Rehabilitation, or School Counseling will receive formal endorsement in their area of specialization by the faculty of their program. Formal endorsement includes recommendation for state and/or national certification and employment consistent with training provided in their program.

Students will receive formal endorsement only in that program for which they have successfully completed all requirements and will be recommended only for certification and employment consistent with training provided. In cases in which a certifying body allows a student to sit for a certification examination prior to successful completion of the entire program; the program faculty shall endorse the student as a candidate for that examination if the student has completed that portion of the program required by that certifying body.

Many students choose to open a Placement File and work with the University’s Office of Career Services. In this way an endorsement letter of recommendation from faculty is sent directly to prospective employers by the Office of Career Services.

COUNSELING HONOR SOCIETY

Chi Delta Rho is the University of Scranton chapter of the Chi Sigma Iota Counseling Academic and Professional Honor Society International. Chi Sigma Iota (CSI) is an international honor society for counselor educators, students, and professionals. Its purpose is “to promote scholarship, research, professionalism and excellence in counseling, and to recognize high attainment in the pursuit of academic and clinical excellence in the field of counseling.” The many benefits of CSI membership include a newsletter, annual conventions, awards, membership certificate and pin, as well as access to an international professional network. More detailed information about our international counseling honorary is available at http://www.csi-net.org.

Students eligible to join CSI will have completed a minimum of 12 credits and must have maintained an overall scholastic average of 3.5 or better while enrolled in the program. Applications for our chapter of Chi Sigma Iota are typically available on the Chi Sigma Iota Bulletin Board. Students must be recommended for membership and show promise for a capacity to represent the best about professional counseling including appropriate professional behavior, ethical judgment, emotional maturity, and attitudes conducive to working to advocate for wellness and human dignity for all.
POLICIES, PROCEDURES, & MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION

ADMISSIONS

The applicant for admissions to any counseling program must possess a bachelor’s degree from an accredited college or university, and provide the Office of Admissions with evidence of satisfactory undergraduate preparation. The ordinary standard for admission is an undergraduate GPA of at least 3.00 on a grading scale of 4.00. Students falling below this level may submit other evidence of their ability to successfully complete a graduate program. Admission requirements include official transcripts, professional letters of recommendation, a statement of intention and a required interview with program faculty. All programs have supplemental application requirements. Further details are available in the University of Scranton Graduate Studies Catalog.

Typically, new students start coursework in the Fall semester. Students must submit their completed application to the Office of Graduate Admissions prior to March 1. Program directors review applications and pay particular attention to each applicant’s ability to address program specific professional goals and professional identity in the statement of intentions. Group interviews with program faculty prior to acceptance are required. All interviews are scheduled by program faculty shortly after the application deadline. All Clinical Mental Health Counseling and School Counseling applicants must complete the specially developed recommendation forms for the program and respond to additional program specific essays in order to finalize their admissions packets. Program directors make acceptance decisions by April 15. Refer to specific program admissions policies for more specific admissions process information.

Applicants are expected to have completed a course in each of the following areas at the undergraduate level: Introduction to Statistics (Descriptive Statistics, Basic Inferential Statistics); Introduction to Theories of Personality or Counseling or Psychotherapy; and Lifespan Development (Lifespan Development, Adulthood, Adolescence, Childhood, or Growth and Development). Students without the prerequisite background coursework can still be considered for admission but may be required to complete the necessary undergraduate coursework upon acceptance into a given program. It is expected that applicants demonstrate some competency in computer literacy (e-mail, Internet, word processing).

The admissions process is highly competitive and faculty will select only those applicants best qualified for the program requested. Students will meet with their advisors prior to beginning the program and set up their first semester schedules.

The faculty will review each student’s professional and academic performance on a regular basis. Suggestions for continued student growth and plans for remediation will be presented and discussed with students by their Program Directors. Satisfactory progress in both professional and academic performance (See Fitness for Profession on p. 20) is required for continuation in the program.

PROBATIONARY AND PROVISIONAL ADMISSION

Applicants, who do not meet all of the criteria for regular admission, but show reasonable promise for success in graduate studies, may be accepted on a probationary basis. Recommendation for Probationary Admission must include a prescription for nine hours of specific course work (three graduate courses) that the student must complete within the first twelve hours of graduate study.

Applicants who do not have the necessary undergraduate preparation in the discipline area requested but have demonstrated academic achievement indicative of successful graduate study may be considered for Provisional Admission or Provisional Acceptance. The applicant may gain Provisional Admission with the provision that s/he complete a specific prescription of undergraduate course work in conjunction with his/her graduate studies. Provisional Acceptance carries the provision that the applicant complete a specific prescription of undergraduate course work, with a GPA of at least 3.0 in these studies, prior to undertaking graduate course work.

For more detailed admissions information and admission status categories consult the University’s Graduate Studies Catalog.
ADVISING/MENTORING

When a student is admitted into one of the counseling programs, he or she is assigned a mentor. It is the student's responsibility to make regular contact with his or her mentor regarding courses to be taken and overall progress in the program. Among the mentor's responsibilities are the following: (1) to develop a plan of study with each student for timely completion of all degree requirements; (2) to advise the student each semester about courses to take in the subsequent semester; (3) to communicate any corrective feedback to the student; and, (4) to review the student's records at the time that the student registers to graduate to determine that the student has met all program requirements.

Students meet with their mentor each semester to go over the scheduling of classes. They receive their student PIN number from the mentor, which is necessary for on-line registration.

SCHEDULING

Classes are offered from 4:30 p.m.- 7:10 p.m., and 7:20 p.m. - 10:00 p.m., Monday through Thursday during the Fall and Spring semesters. Course offerings vary in the Intersession and Summer sessions as well as on-line and weekend courses. Each course meets one night per week in the Fall and Spring semesters and twice weekly during Intersession and in the Summer sessions.

CURRICULUM PLANNING GUIDE

The student is expected to complete and continuously update his/her Curriculum Planning Guide. A Curriculum Planning Guide can be found at the end of the Program Manual. Mentors appreciate students bringing their updated curriculum Planning Guide to meetings when discussing scheduling issues. PIN Numbers for registration will not be distributed unless this form is current and updated.

GRADUATE COUNSELING PROGRAM LEARNING OUTCOMES

Our three graduate counseling programs are guided by curricular experiences designed towards student achievement of the following Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs):

1. Demonstrate master's level professional counseling dispositions

2. Demonstrate master's level theoretical knowledge and competencies in all core counseling domains.

3. Demonstrate, apply, and evaluate master's level theoretical knowledge and competencies in clinical practice

4. Use of research and program evaluation to inform professional counseling practice

5. Program specific outcomes

- Clinical Mental Health Counseling: Demonstrate knowledge pertaining to the provision of evidence-based clinical mental health counseling services that enhance the emotional, cognitive, behavioral, relational, and spiritual well-being of individuals, families, and groups seeking help with either everyday life concerns or more significant challenges.

- Rehabilitation Counseling: Apply the specialized knowledge, skills, and attitudes to identify and implement evidenced-based practices in collaboration with individuals who live with disabilities to achieve their personal, social, psychological, and vocational goals

- School Counseling: Demonstrate the knowledge and skills to function as a comprehensive Professional School Counselor.
ADVANCED REGISTRATION

To facilitate planning and resources allocation, all students enrolled during a given session or semester are required to participate in the advanced registration process for subsequent sessions or semesters. Generally, advanced registration for Summer and Fall is completed in April and advanced registration for Intersession and Spring is completed in October. Bills for tuition and fees are received by mail and may be submitted to the University by mail. Failure to utilize the advanced registration process may result in a late registration fee. Following the advanced registration period and prior to the start of the session or semester, the student will receive by mail, a bill called THE TUITION AND REMITTANCE FORM. Billing for tuition and fees occurs separately for each term/semester. A Remittance Form is attached to student's invoices and must be returned; use the Remittance form to indicate payment method. Billing dates and due dates are published for each semester.

FULL-TIME/PART-TIME GRADUATE STUDENT STATUS

The enrollment status for all graduate students in all programs for all terms (regular academic calendar and special terms such as summer and intersession) will be as follows: full time status is 6 credits or more per academic term; half-time is 3 to 5.99 credits per academic term. Fall and Spring semesters comprise the academic year. Consult with the Financial Aid Office (941-7701) for utilizing financial aid resources during intersession and summer sessions. You can also visit the Financial Aid website at www.scranton.edu/financialaid to review how to apply for aid and what sources of funding are available.

PRACTICUM APPLICATION PROCESS

Practicum is a clinical experience that occurs after the completion of 24 credits. In the semester prior to practicum, students will be required to attend a mandatory pre-practicum meeting and complete an application. The application will require that students obtain clearances that include, child abuse, Pennsylvania Criminal records, FBI and TB. Depending on the site for your field-based practicum additional documentation may be required. A completed application also will include submission of a pre-practicum portfolio and faculty recommendations. Completed applications will be submitted to and reviewed by the Counselor Training Center (CTC) Director and also reviewed by the program directors and/or the department chair for approval. In the event that an application is not approved an action plan will be initiated in accordance with the departmental “fit for the profession” procedure. Additional, specific practicum requirements for each program are included in the program-specific portion of this manual. For admission into a fall semester practicum, the pre-practicum meeting occurs in March. For admission into a spring semester practicum, the pre-practicum meeting occurs in October. Meetings are announced through the department list serve. Application deadlines that will be adhered to are April 15th for Fall Practicum and November 15th for Spring Practicum.

Please note that you may be moved from the practicum section for which you sign up. Research suggests, and we believe, that students get more out of the practicum experience when intentionally matched with other students. We take a variety of factors into account when assigning students to practicum sections, including some considerations for class size that come to us from the dean’s office. Always, our primary goal is to facilitate the best experience possible for students. Please do not be surprised or concerned if you are administratively moved from the section for which you registered to another section.

NOTE: Any concerns with clearances will be reviewed on an individual basis. A prior arrest or conviction may not preclude participation in practicum. It may have implications for the types of activities in which a student is able to participate in. However, in some circumstances, an arrest and/or conviction may have implications for one's ability to obtain a state license or certification. It is the student's responsibility to understand the implications of this past activity on their future counseling goals.
CHANGE OF SCHEDULE AND/OR WITHDRAWAL FROM COURSES

During the registration period, students may make adjustments in their schedule using their registration PIN number. Remember, PIN numbers change each semester and are only valid for the current semester. It is important to contact the Program Director about any planned changes. The student should note that withdrawal from a course after the session or semester has started is subject to the tuition refund schedule listed in the Graduate Studies Catalog.

FACULTY ACCESSIBILITY

All full-time and part-time faculty members wish to be accessible to students. The faculty would appreciate scheduled appointments whenever possible. The student should see the faculty member personally or contact the faculty member by phone or email to schedule an appointment. All faculty office hours are posted on all department bulletin boards, the departmental office at 457 McGurrin Hall, and on individual faculty doors.

EXPECTATIONS OF FACULTY

All program faculty members are expected to demonstrate respect and practice integrity in their professional relationships with students similar to that which they require of their students. Any student who feels that they have not been treated fairly by a full-time or adjunct faculty member may confidentially discuss their concerns with the Director of their program. If the concern is not resolved, students should contact the CHS Department Chair. Finally, if resolution cannot be found at the department level, students are encouraged to contact the Dean of your college. Further guidance can be found in the University Student Handbook.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

The Department of Counseling and Human Services, as an academic department of the University of Scranton, complies with all applicable laws and regulations with respect to the accommodation of disabilities as these defined in the law. The University will provide reasonable accommodations so students can fully participate in curricular and extracurricular activities. Students who need assistance should contact the Center for Teaching and Learning Excellence, St. Thomas Hall, Harper McGinnis Wing – 5th Floor [941-4038].

GRADING

Grades are assigned according to the Graduate and Continuing Education Services letter grade system of A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, and F. Selected courses [including Practicum and Internships] are graded SATISFACTORY OR UNSATISFACTORY. In selected and extraordinary circumstances, an Incomplete [I] may be given which automatically converts to an F at the end of the following academic semester if the student does not satisfactorily complete the course requirements.

TRANSFER CREDITS

Transfer of credits to graduate programs at the University of Scranton requires the approval of the student's Program Director and the Panuska College of Professional Studies Dean, and is governed by the following Graduate and Continuing Education Services policies.

1. Credits for transfer must be acquired in residence at an accredited institution as a graduate student.

2. A maximum of nine (9) graduate credits may be transferred for graduate programs requiring at least 39 credit hours for completion.

3. Courses to be transferred must be integral to the student's program of study.

4. Transferred credits must be taken within six (6) years of the date of the student's initial graduate enrollment.
5. A grade of B or better is required in any course to be transferred and an official transcript demonstrating this must be submitted for work at other institutions (including course descriptions of the credits in question). A grade of Pass or Satisfactory is not acceptable for transferred credits.

6. The course to be transferred must be a regularly scheduled course.

Students matriculated at the University of Scranton may take courses at other accredited Colleges for the purpose of transfer of credit only with the prior permission of their mentor and the Dean of the College of Professional Studies. Students should consult with their mentor or program director about the appropriateness and feasibility of a proposed transfer of credit.

Forms for Transfer of Credit are available from the Department secretary, Program Directors, or online at the Graduate School’s website. Note: Although earning an appropriate final grade is required for final approval, most students meet with their mentor to gain preliminary approval about appropriate transfer courses.

WAIVER OF REQUIRED COURSES

Students who wish to waive a required course may petition the program director for permission to do so. A waiver of required courses form is available from Program Directors. A previously taken graduate course may justify a waiver (see cautionary note below) of a required course when the following conditions are met:

1. The course was taken in residence at another institution.
2. A maximum of nine [9] required credits may be waived.
3. Courses waived will not reduce the number of credits required for graduation.
4. The course presented as justification for waiver of a required course must be essentially similar to the course for which waiver is requested.
5. The course presented as justification for waiver of a required course must have been completed within six [6] years of a student’s admission to their master’s degree program.
6. A grade of B or better was acquired in the course and an official transcript is submitted.
7. Except in cases where the program director is familiar with the prior course, the student will present a course description or syllabus for evaluation by the program director.
8. The program director may require specific alternatives for courses waived.
9. Under no circumstances will required clinical instruction be waived.

Cautionary Note: Students interested in obtaining the National Certified Counselor (NCC) designation should be particularly careful about course waivers. The National Board for Certified Counselors notes:

“Waiving course requirements for entering graduate students can later become a problem for NCC applicants because their transcripts may not reflect completion of the required NBCC coursework area. We have on occasion had to reject an application either before or after testing because of this practice. As a solution, we suggest awarding graduate level credit rather than waiving a course requirement” (NBCC correspondence, 7/11/2007).
DIRECTED STUDY AND READER COURSES

Students may enroll for a directed study course to pursue an area of interest under the guidance of a faculty member. In extraordinary cases, a regular course may be offered to a student as a reader. Use of these courses is highly restricted and reserved for students of demonstrated competence and who have shown the ability to work independently. These courses are not appropriate for student convenience in scheduling. Approval by the Program Director is required.

FACULTY/STUDENT RESEARCH PROGRAM

The University of Scranton Faculty/Student Research Program (FSRP) is a university-wide program which offers students an opportunity to be involved in faculty research activities. The program is administered by the Office of Research Services and participation is open to all students in good academic standing. The program is offered on a non-credit basis; however, students receive transcript recognition for participation. Interested students may contact their program director or Eloise Libassi in the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs, IMBM Bldg. 202, http://www.academic.scranton.edu/department/ors, (570) 941-6353.

SUPPORT FOR STUDENT RESEARCH/PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Students are encouraged to become involved in research and professional development opportunities within the department and within professional organizations.

The Office of Research and Sponsored Programs (ORSP) has funds available to assist students who will be attending professional conferences in order to make presentations, either involving the student’s individual research or research done in conjunction with a faculty mentor. These funds are quite limited. Consult with a faculty member or your program director. Form and travel expense receipts are sent to Eloise Libassi, Office of Research Services, and IMBM 202.

Faculty may advocate on students’ behalf for additional funding sources in the Office of Research Services. Typically, ORS supports student presentations at conferences.

FEES, CHARGES, AND SERVICES

The student should consult the current Graduate Studies Catalog for a discussion of fees, charges, financial aid opportunities, graduate assistantships, and student services.

FINANCIAL AID AND ASSISTANTSHIPS

A certain number of assistantships in the Department of Counseling and Human Services are designated for graduate students in counseling. Counseling students are encouraged to apply for assistantships elsewhere on campus. Other academic departments and student affairs programs have typically employed counseling students in the past. Assistantships are coordinated by the Office of Graduate and Continuing Education Services. Applications for assistantships may be obtained from the Graduate and Continuing Education Services website and must be completed by March 1 to be eligible for the next academic year. Assistant applications are submitted to the Office of Graduate and Continuing Education Services. Award decisions are usually made in April proceeding the next academic year. Students are encouraged to contact the financial aid office to discuss procedures and policies for student loans.
CENTER FOR TEACHING AND LEARNING EXCELLENCE

The University’s Center for Teaching and Learning Excellence (CTLE) is located on the 5th floor of the Harper-McGimness Wing in St. Thomas Hall. The mission of the CTLE is to provide academic support services for students and opportunities for faculty to enhance teaching and learning. The CTLE offers services to assist graduate students to achieve academic success. The CTLE can assist graduate students in improving their reading comprehension and retention, writing and enhance overall learning skills. Peer-tutoring is available to graduate students free of charge. Students may also work with CTLE staff in learning how to use instructional technology that is available on campus. Graduate students with disabilities, who are registered with the CTLE, receive academic accommodations such as extended test-taking time, note taking and computer use for examinations. Individual consultations with the CTLE Reading Enrichment Specialist, Learning Enrichment Specialist and Writing Consultants are encouraged to assist students with physical and/or learning differences achieve academic success.

To learn more about the CTLE’s programs and services for students and faculty visit our Web site at www.scranton.edu/ctle or phone 941-4038

WEINBERG MEMORIAL LIBRARY

- The Weinberg Memorial Library provides information, services, and programs that meet the current and anticipated educational, research, and public service needs of the University’s students and faculty.

Library Tutorials

In these view-only tutorials, you will learn how to use resources found in the library. These instructions include how to search databases by subject or by title, obtain course materials an instructor places on electronic reserves, search and place an order on interlibrary loan and PALCI, browse the online catalog, cite sources appropriately, and receive online help from a librarian.

The tutorials use Flash and are voice narrated. You can find the tutorials here:
http://academic.scranton.edu/department/ctle/tutorials/research/library/

STUDENT ORIENTATION

New students will find much useful information about the University and its facilities and programs as well as policies and procedures at the Orientation offered for all new students prior to the fall semester by the Office of Graduate and Continuing Education Services (GCES). In addition to the GCES Orientation, the Department of Counseling and Human Services schedules an orientation for new students early in the fall semester. New students are encouraged to attend both orientation sessions.

GRADUATE AND CONTINUING EDUCATION SERVICES

The Office of Graduate and Continuing Education Services (GCES) is committed to serving graduate students in many different capacities. Office staff is available to assist in meeting students’ academic goals. The Student Services and advising Office has extended hours to accommodate graduate students’ schedules (570 941-7400).

WRITING STYLE

Written assignments in all required and elective courses, with few exceptions, must be prepared and referenced in the style specified in the current edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association. All students must purchase a copy of this manual [which is available in the University of Scranton Bookstore] when they begin their program.
DEPARTMENT COMPUTER LABORATORY

The Department of Counseling and Human Services computer laboratory is located in MGH 438 and consists of computers with word processing, presentation, spreadsheet, data base, web browsing, html authoring and statistical computing software. Each computer is connected to the campus network and the Internet to provide access to e-mail, telnet, ftp, and world wide web browsing. This laboratory is in addition to other computer facilities on campus.

CAPSTONE EXPERIENCE

All students are expected to demonstrate for department review both theoretical and skill competence prior to graduation. This is accomplished through the comprehensive examination component of the Professional Counselor Portfolio. This component consists of a reflection regarding personal and professional growth. Students should file an Application for Comprehensive Examination when they pre-register for practicum in Clinical Mental Health Counseling (COUN 590), Rehabilitation Counseling (COUN 591) or School Counseling (COUN 592).

The examination is completed at the mid-point of the course. The practicum instructor notifies the Office of Graduate and Continuing Education Services, the students’ program director, and the student of the results of the comprehensive examination.

*SPECIAL NOTE: Students entering a graduate counseling program beginning Fall 2015 may be required to take the Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Examination (CPCE) near the conclusion of their program. Students will be responsible for exam cost. Specific policy regarding this exam will be provided to students.

PROFESSIONAL COUNSELOR PORTFOLIO

Counseling students, in collaboration with their mentors and program faculty, monitor and reflect on progress in their program through the development of a Professional Counselor Portfolio: a collection of experience-based materials and reflective information that demonstrates various dimensions of the student counselor’s work, philosophy, abilities, attitudes, and goals. The development of the Portfolio begins as the student enters a counseling program and continues throughout the program of study.

Feedback by faculty will be provided at each stage of the portfolio development process. For example, the portfolio will be submitted to program faculty prior to registering for practicum. Similarly, while enrolled in the counseling practicum, the student will add a written component in partial fulfillment of the requirements of the Comprehensive Examination. Finally, while enrolled in the counseling internship, the student will submit his or her final revision of the portfolio in a form suitable for use in the job-search process.

If your portfolio is not being reviewed by a course instructor it will be placed in the department office for you to pick up. If your course instructor is reviewing your portfolio, they will return it to you. Note: It is the student’s responsibility to reclaim their portfolio. A more detailed explanation and guidelines for development of the Professional Counselor Portfolio are provided on pp 29-31.

CERTIFICATE OF ADVANCED GRADUATE STUDY

The Department offers a Certificate of Advanced Graduate Study (CAGS) in Professional Counseling which is designed to meet the legislated educational requirements of Pennsylvania Act 136 of 1998 — The Social Workers, Marriage and Family Therapists and Professional Counselors Act. The Certificate allows students to obtain a minimum of 12 additional graduate credits in professional counseling that can partially fulfill requirements for counselor licensure in Pennsylvania.

A minimum of 60 total graduate credits in professional counseling must be attained before the CAGS is granted. Each student will design a plan of study in conjunction with his/her Program Director that addresses licensure education requirements and the student’s unique needs. Specific course work and clinical instruction requirements are subject to modification by the State Board. Further information is available in Graduate Studies Catalog.
ACCELERATED B.S. /M.S. DEGREE PROGRAM

Undergraduate Counseling and Human Services majors with outstanding academic records may be eligible for early admission to either the Clinical Mental Health, Rehabilitation or School Counseling graduate degree program through the Accelerated Baccalaureate/Master's Degree Program. Interested students must commit to this program no later than March 1 of their junior year of academic study, adhere to the time frame for application as outlined in the Counseling and Human Services section of the Graduate Studies catalog, and meet specific admissions criteria. Students can complete a maximum of twelve credits while they are pursuing their undergraduate degree. Contact the Counseling and Human Services Program Director for additional information. Interested undergraduate students from other relevant discipline areas may be considered.

In addition to meeting the minimum grade point average outlined for the accelerated program, each candidate will participate in the group interview and complete all the admission process elements required for their desired graduate program.

DESIRE 2 LEARN (D2L)

Desire 2 Learn is the University’s Learning Management System (LMS). Narrative guidelines and descriptions are available on the D2L Link. In addition there is a “student help videos” tab on the Learning Management System portion of the University’s web site.

COMPUTER REQUIREMENTS

If you intend to bring a computer to campus, the computer must meet these minimum requirements:
- Windows 7, 8 or Mac OS 10.6 or higher
- (Note: Operating systems must be English version and server versions are not allowed)
- WiFi Certified wireless card
- Microsoft Office Professional (will be part of the Microsoft Office 365 package, call Technology Support Center for information
- Secure Web Browser (Firefox, Chrome, Safari)
- ALL Windows Critical Updates Installed (from Microsoft)
- University-approved Anti-Virus Software Installed
- (For Windows computers: Microsoft Security Essentials are recommended; for Macintosh computers: Sophos Anti-Virus for Mac. Both are free)

If you need assistance contact tech support at 570-941-4357.

CHS LIST SERV (CHSL)

In an effort to enhance overall program communications, the Department of Counseling and Human Services has developed a CHS ListServ. We require ALL students to subscribe to the ListServ. The ListServ will be used to send out important departmental and program announcements.

To subscribe to the CHSL list:
The preferred subscription method is to log into the RoyalLists web interface and subscribe from there.
This can either be done through the RoyalLists channel on the University Links tab in my.scranton or by going directly to http://royallists.scranton.edu.

From the main screen after login, users can search for the chsl list using the “Index of Lists” tab on the Royal Lists home page and can subscribe by following the link to the appropriate list and clicking the “subscribe” link in the “List Operations” features on the left hand side of the page.

Subscribing from an address other than your University address can be done through the following direct link. This link should not be used by University members:
http://royallists.scranton.edu/sympa/subscribe/chsl

An alternate method is to subscribe via email by sending a message to sympa@royallists.scranton.edu with the body of the message containing:
A reply will be sent confirming subscription to the list.

Contact the Technology Support Center (941-4357) if you need assistance formatting your e-mail. The Technology Support Center is familiar with both the SUBSCRIBE and UNSUBSCRIBE procedures.

OTHER INFORMATION

The student should refer to the General Information section of the most recent Graduate Studies Catalog for additional relevant policies, procedures, and information.

The Office of Graduate and Continuing Education Services is located on the second floor of O’Hara Hall. The main telephone number is 941-7600 and is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Monday through Friday.

Students should contact the Office of Graduate and Continuing Education Services to make arrangements for receiving a U of S photo ID and a parking decal. Photo ID is required to use the University library, computer labs, and McGurkin Hall.
FITNESS FOR THE PROFESSION OF COUNSELING

A Policy Statement from the Faculty and Staff of the Department of Counseling and Human Services, College of Professional Studies, University of Scranton.

PROFESSIONAL AND PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

Entry into the profession of counseling is more than initiating a new career path or beginning a new job. It is similar to starting a lifelong journey. As in many other fields of endeavor, there is an intensive and rigorous training program to complete, which has academic and clinical requirements attached. However, because counseling is both a profession that deals with human living and a way of living in its own right, there are professional and personal challenges that students will encounter.

Meeting these challenges and learning to grow from them is an integral part of succeeding in the counseling profession. As counselor educators, the faculty and staff of the Department of Counseling and Human Services are committed to facilitating the professional development and personal growth of students, and to the education, supervision and mentoring of students in all aspects of their professional counseling journey.

The education of professional counselors demands evaluation of one’s values, beliefs, attitudes and behavior patterns. In many ways the deepest challenge students will encounter is the combined task of self-assessment, self-correction and self-direction in collaboration with others and across many areas of life: academic, clinical, professional and personal. It is our hope and expectation that each student who joins the Department will succeed in these tasks.

To that end, we list below a number of the attributes, characteristics or behaviors that we believe are important for success in both counselor training and for the practicing professional counselor.

Students in each graduate program will be evaluated on a continuing basis with reference to these professional and personal attributes as well as to their academic performance and growing clinical skill. The list below is not exhaustive but is meant to provide a firm basis for discussion between students and faculty. Descriptions are given to help students in evaluating their own strengths and growing edges in each domain.

An important note: The faculty hope that providing these characteristics will help students understand what is expected of them and will stimulate self-assessment for continued growth. Ongoing professional and personal growth is an important practice, whether one is a counselor-in-training or a counseling professional. It is in this sense, then, that the faculty and staff of the Department commit themselves to fostering the development of our students as well as of one another. It is our hope to become a learning community of fellow professionals – faculty, staff and students.

For all of us, it is to be hoped that growth will build upon our uniqueness as individuals while moving us toward professional excellence. With this in mind, the following attributes are provided to aid in our ongoing development.
Professional/Personal Attributes: Counseling

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Professional/Personal Attributes</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Commitment to Wellness</td>
<td>Wellness is a way of life oriented toward optimal health and well-being in which body, mind and spirit are integrated by the individual to live life more fully. It is particularly important as it impacts professional and clinical practice. &quot;Commitment&quot; includes: An understanding of, and decision to pursue, wellness as a lifestyle over the life span. Willingness to assess issues of wellness in one's lifestyle and life-environments; an ongoing choice to become the best one can be spiritually, mentally, emotionally, physically, socially, and vocationally.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Commitment to Learning</td>
<td>Demonstrated ability to self-assess, self-correct, and self-direct; to identify needs and sources of learning; to continually seek new knowledge and understanding. Demonstrated academic- and life-management skills: For example, ability to prioritize and manage a variety of commitments, time and stress; critical thinking skills; problem-solving and ethical decision-making skills; quality participation in class exercises and assignments; timeliness. Commitment to excellence as a counseling professional.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Core Academic and Clinical Competencies</td>
<td>The counseling profession, through its various accrediting and certifying agencies (e.g. CACREP, CORE; NBCC, CCRC) has identified the knowledge-base that is essential for success in professional counseling. These core areas include: Human Growth and Development, Social and Cultural Foundations, Helping Relationships, Group Work, Career and Lifestyle Development, Appraisal, Research and Program Evaluation, and Professional Orientation. Acceptable performance in these academic areas is essential. In addition, clinical competency and an acceptable level of functioning in practica and internships are required and expected (see revised Internship Manual and specific Program Objectives elsewhere in this Program Manual). The ability to form effective collegial working relationships with peers and supervisors. It should be noted that, in a number of academic courses involving these core academic and clinical areas, students will be challenged to review their own values, attitudes, experiences, beliefs, behaviors and biases. Willingness to engage in this self-review, its challenges and potential growth, is a critical element in growing as a professional counselor.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. Professional Identity</td>
<td>Commitment to ongoing development as a professional counselor and member of the &quot;helping professions.&quot; Commitment to high standards of practice as a counseling professional.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>---</td>
<td>---</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. Personal Maturity</td>
<td>Ability to live and function at an appropriate level of emotional, psychological, and relational well-being; freedom from significant impairments that would affect one's ability to perform as a professional counselor. The ability to tolerate ambiguity and to patiently address areas of growth. Ability to balance personal and professional self-awareness.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6. Responsibility</td>
<td>Demonstrated ability to fulfill professional commitments and to be accountable for actions and outcomes. Demonstration of effective work habits and attitudes (e.g. reliability), evident in classes, assistantship assignments, and other areas of student performance. Demonstrated ability to act and respond in a variety of situations with honesty and integrity. Knowledgeable about professional ethical standards and competent in applying those standards to concrete situations.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7. Interpersonal Skills</td>
<td>Demonstrated ability to interact effectively with clients, families, colleagues, other helping professionals, and the community and to deal effectively with multiple diversities in a pluralistic society. Effectiveness in establishing positive interpersonal relationships on an individual and group basis; openness to constructive criticism; tolerance and openness toward differences; ability to develop appropriate support systems. The ability to identify sources of and seek out appropriate feedback from faculty and peers, and to utilize and provide feedback for improving personal and professional interactions; &quot;supervis-ability.&quot; Ability to be appropriately assertive and self-advocating.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8. Problem-solving</td>
<td>In both professional performance and personal development, the ability to recognize and define problems, analyze data from varied sources, develop and implement solutions, and evaluate outcomes. The ability to seek out resources for help, support, and insight.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------------</td>
<td>--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9. Stress Management</td>
<td>The ability to identify sources of stress that (potentially) affect personal and professional functioning, and to develop effective coping behaviors. Existence of appropriate boundaries between personal stressors and professional performance. Obtaining appropriate supports, resources and help when needed.</td>

STUDENT RETENTION POLICY AND PROCEDURES

Acceptance into a counseling program does not assure graduation from it. Successful completion of the Masters degree in the Department of Counseling and Human Services is based upon the continuous evaluation of students to insure (a) effective demonstration of academic competence, (b) each student’s commitment to the program and the profession, and (c) his or her continued growth in personal or emotional characteristics and qualities related to successful performance in a helping profession (see above). The evaluation process serves two primary functions:

1. To provide students with direct feedback relative to their progress that will enable them to enhance their strengths and identify and remediate growing edges and weaknesses in their academic, professional and personal development.

2. To provide faculty with information about student progress which facilitates decisions in the best interest of students and the profession.

A student must have a cumulative GPA of at least a 3.0 at the end of his or her prescribed curriculum to receive the Masters degree. In addition, all students must maintain a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 to remain in good standing. If a student’s GPA drops below a 3.0, he or she is placed on academic probation. If satisfactory progress is not made toward removing probationary status, the student is subject to dismissal by the Dean in consultation with the student’s Program Director (see Graduate Studies Catalogue). Students whose GPA is below 3.0 will not be allowed to register for practicum or internship in Clinical Mental Health Counseling [COUN 595], Rehabilitation Counseling, [COUN 596, or School Counseling, [COUN 597 or COUN 598].

Students are expected to adhere to the professional code of ethics of the American Counseling Association and to codes of ethics of professional organizations in the student’s specialty area. Copies of these codes are available through the professional organizations. Students are also expected to adhere to the Academic Code of Honesty of the University of Scranton.

The Department’s annual “student review process” offers a vehicle for counseling faculty to evaluate student academic, professional and personal progress. Any faculty member may raise questions about a particular student’s performance in any of the above areas at any point during the student’s program. Additionally, a review will take place at least yearly with the initial review taking place following the student’s first semester of enrollment. Written results of the review will be placed in the student’s advising file, which is retained in the Department.

Students who have demonstrated satisfactory progress are given feedback by their mentor. It is the experience of the faculty and staff that the majority of students engage fully in the Program and progress in this way. In fact, many of our students excel in all areas of their development as counselors-in-training. However, at times, there are those students who need additional help.

Students who have not demonstrated satisfactory progress are notified to make a mandatory appointment with their mentor. This “review process” insures that each student is given feedback about academic, professional, and personal development throughout the program as they attain knowledge and skill in required and elective courses and clinical experience.
The following procedures are in place for students needing further progress:

Process 1:
Students receive feedback in an advising meeting with their mentor. In consultation with the mentor, the student will write a plan that addresses “growing edges” in that student’s development. Assuming that this plan is adhered to, the student’s performance improves to a satisfactory level.

Process 2:
Students may be unwilling and/or unable to follow through with Process 1; there is either lack of sufficient progress in, or resistance to, Process 1. In this case the Department will recommend to the Panuska College of Professional Studies Dean that the student be placed on probation and a more formal remediation plan be developed between the mentor and student, and ratified by the Department’s “retention committee.” This committee is composed of (1) the student’s mentor, (2) the Department Chair, and (3) one other full-time faculty member appointed by the Chair on an ad hoc basis.

A remediation plan may include but not be limited to the following: (1) Identification of the problem areas, (2) Expected behavioral and/or attitudinal changes, (3) Potential methods for achieving and demonstrating change, and (4) Time frame for completion.

Each student involved in this process has the option of bringing an advocate (neither a family member nor a lawyer) to meetings with the Retention Committee.

A copy of the plan will be given to the student, and one will be retained by the mentor, retention committee, and the Panuska College of Professional Studies Dean. Satisfactory completion of the plan and consistent demonstration of appropriate conduct should be assessed by the committee on an agreed timeline, and will result in a decision to recommend removal from probation to the College of Professional Studies Dean.

Process 3:
If processes 1 & 2 fail, the entire faculty may (1) recommend voluntary termination/resignation to the student and/or (2) recommend dismissal to the College of Professional Studies Dean. If dismissal from the program is recommended, the Department will forward that recommendation to the Graduate Dean for disposition.

In rare cases the faculty may become aware of issues or behavior that raise doubts about a student’s ability to either (a) successfully complete the program, or (b) move forward as a practicing professional counselor. When such information becomes available, the faculty have a duty to review the information fully and carefully, to notify the student of concerns and the outcome of the review, and to select a course of action that is commensurate with accepted ethical and legal procedures as well as the "best practices" of the profession.

In these instances the faculty, in consultation with the Dean, may find it necessary to forego the step-by-step procedures listed above and move directly to recommend probation and remediation or dismissal from the program.

The retention standards and policies of the University of Scranton and the Department of Counseling and Human Services are free of any limitation, specification, or discrimination on the grounds of race, religion, color, national or ethnic origin, sex, sexual orientation, age, or disability, except as provided by law. Applications for admission from members of groups that are traditionally underrepresented in the counseling profession are encouraged and welcomed.
COUNSELING SERVICES

Counseling services are available at no charge to all CHS students enrolled at the University of Scranton. Counseling is intended not only to provide help to students with clearly identified problems, but also to facilitate individual growth and development as a supplement to the ongoing educational process. Services can be provided on an individual basis or through small groups.

It is particularly recommended that aspiring counselors take advantage of these services to enhance their personal growth and development. This opportunity to be “in the other chair” as the counselee, and to gain a first hand awareness of what clients experience in the counseling setting can be invaluable for future counselors. Information revealed in sessions is treated as confidential. Services are provided by counselors who ARE NOT involved in the faculty decision-making process regarding students’ program advancement and career.
PROFESSIONAL COUNSELOR PORTFOLIO
A requirement for Counseling Program Master's Degree Students
Counseling and Human Services Department

I. Introduction

- A professional counselor portfolio is a collection of experience-based materials and reflective information that demonstrates various dimensions of the counselor's work, philosophy, abilities, and attitudes. The goal is to demonstrate how diverse activities and insights have contributed to the professional counselor's development.

- The development of the professional counselor portfolio begins as the graduate student enters a counseling program, and continues throughout his/her program of study.

- A session will be held with all graduate students during their first semester of coursework to review the portfolio process.

II. Purpose: The portfolio is developed in an ongoing manner throughout the graduate counseling program, and used periodically as a tool for reflection, evaluation, and feedback. The overall purpose is to collect and combine examples of experience and mastery with reflection on their meaning or significance. The process of developing a professional counselor portfolio has several purposes:

A. Portfolio development is designed to facilitate a thoughtful and intentional entrance into graduate studies. As students begin preparation in a professional career, it is important that they actively engage in each step of their learning. Reviewing one's strengths and "growing edges", setting goals for needed learning, pursuing a learning strategy, and regular evaluation of progress are all important steps in engaging with the learning process at the graduate level. Developing a portfolio is a vehicle for this engagement.

B. The process of portfolio development also provides opportunities for regular faculty evaluation and feedback for each student in a manner which includes dialogue between faculty member and counseling student. Ongoing preparation for a profession is best accomplished with the guidance of professionals who can serve in the roles of consultant, teacher, mentor, and supervisor. Active dialogue enables the student to shape and modify his/her learning with attention to personal needs and professional requirements. The portfolio development process provides for dialogue and feedback throughout the course of study.

C. Successful completion of the assessment components of the portfolio process serves as "marker events" in the course of graduate study.

D. The portfolio assists with the professional counselor's job search process. A completed portfolio demonstrates proficiency and mastery and can be used as an employment tool.

E. These purposes reflect the development of a student's portfolio as a process. Counseling program requirements focus elements of the portfolio into a coherent process that (1) facilitates students' intentional shaping of their learning, (2) provides for regular faculty feedback, (3) serves as "marker events" in the course of graduate studies, and (4) provides a format for presentation of professional qualifications.

III. Portfolio Structure and Format

Physically, a portfolio should be a well-organized, attractive presentation of professional materials. Typically it is organized in a three-ring binder with tabs, table of contents, etc. A guiding principle in deciding on entries is to ask "What will be added to the description of my knowledge, skills, and character by adding this entry?" A second guideline is to think about the primary message you want to convey via your portfolio and to ask "Have I selected the entries which most accurately and completely demonstrate my message?" Be sure to include experiences and learning that occur outside the formal academic program, such as participation in volunteer activities.

Each entry should be accompanied by a reflective statement, which might consist of a few sentences or a paragraph. Reflective statements explain why each entry is included and why it represents you as a counseling professional. In writing reflective statements, ask "What did I do? What does it mean? How did I come to be this way? How might I do things differently? and, What have I learned?" The entry is then made meaningful and placed in the context within which a student wants it to be understood.

The content of the portfolio is largely left to you. Some components are required as a part of the portfolio assessment process (see Section IV below). Other considerations for entries could include:

- Professional orientation and background information
- Professional resume
- Statement of counseling philosophy (and perhaps education for those in school counseling)
- Statement of professional goals
- Professional development activities (for example, conferences and workshops attended)
- Evaluations and/or feedback received from supervisors
- Skill/content mastery
  - papers, projects, independent study or research, journals, or other professional activities
  - program designs, publications, presentations
  - evidence related to a specific area of focus within counseling
- Other work/background experiences
  - Summary of other professional activities and how these experiences add to your counselor preparation

IV. Portfolio Assessment Process: Selected elements of the counselor's portfolio will be completed during a specific time frame over the course of graduate study.

A. Statement of Professional Preparation and Goals
   Time frame: Conclusion of the first semester of study (determined by Professional Issues Course Instructor)
   Submitted to: Professional Issues Course Instructor
   Reviewed by: Professional Issues Course Instructor
   Returned by: Professional Issues Course Instructor

- Compose a Statement of Professional Preparation and Goals that outlines how you intend to utilize the counseling degree, and how you intend to gain the competencies necessary to fulfill the program objectives of your counseling program.

- Consult the published objectives of your program (see specific program sections of the Program Manual and the Fitness for Profession Document), and evaluate the strengths and growing edges you bring to graduate study, and construct a concrete action plan for graduate study including proposed course selections over a set time frame. The statement should also include a plan for other learning and professional experiences that you intend to pursue as part of your overall preparation: e.g., professional memberships, credentialing requirements, ongoing professional development outside the classroom, research involvement, areas of interest you may pursue in research papers, reading, etc.

B. Pre-practicum Submission of Professional Counselor Portfolio
   Time frame: Week of November 1 or April 1 during the semester prior to practicum.
   Submitted to: Counselor Training Center (CTC) Coordinator, Prof. Geri Barber
   Reviewed by: Program Director
   Returned by: Practicum Course Instructor during the first week of practicum class

Suggested content:

- What you have done
  - courses taken and grades, professional development activities (e.g., workshops/conferences attended, professional memberships, journals read regularly)
  - research involvements
  - listing of topics of major papers written in connection with coursework.

- Self-evaluation
  - Revised statement of professional preparation/goals and review of progress in realizing previous goals (reference previously written Statement of Professional Preparation/Goals)
  - Re-assess strengths, growing edges, continuing needs, and continuing goals

Plan of action
• Documentation

writing sample, a copy of representative papers written thus far.

workshop/conference brochures from gatherings you attended or presented.

copy of supporting materials verifying membership in professional organizations, subscriptions to professional journals, participation in other related professional activities.

C. Comprehensive Examination Component of the Portfolio

Time frame: Week of November 1 or April 1 during the practicum course (i.e., COUN 590, 591, 592, or 593).

Submitted to: Practicum Course Instructor

Reviewed by: Program Director

Returned by: Practicum Instructor

While enrolled in the counseling practicum course, add a written reflection on your growth to your portfolio. This portfolio submission is partial fulfillment of requirements for the Comprehensive Examination in the Counseling Programs (see attached form). This reflection should discuss growth and gains toward achieving the program objectives of your counseling program (program objectives are enumerated in the specific program sections of the Program Manual).

• Select three (3) objectives of your choice that you feel are your strengths at this time, and answer the following for each objective:

What have you learned in this area?

What learning experiences were particularly meaningful?

Which of the competencies, experiences, and skills relative to this objective do you consider most valuable?

In what settings have you used and do you plan to use this objective.

• Select three (3) additional objectives of your choice that you feel are your weaknesses or growing edges at this time, and answer the following for each objective:

What have you learned in this area?

What additional information do you need to increase your competence in this area?

Briefly outline a plan to achieve your desired competency level.

(Note: Approximately 1 page discussion for each objective in both strengths and growth sections)

D. Submission of Professional Counselor Portfolio for Completion of Internship

Time frame: To be determined by Internship Course Instructor

Submitted to: Internship Course Instructor

Reviewed by: Internship Course Instructor

Returned by: Internship Course Instructor

While enrolled in the counseling internship course, submit your professional counselor portfolio for final review and feedback from faculty. Development of the portfolio during internship typically involves reviewing the formative process that you have undergone during your graduate program and recording significant events and learning that occur during the internship. Other primary components of this portfolio include a revision of items previously discussed in portfolio and inclusion of entries deemed appropriate for use in the job search process or summarizing your role as a professional counselor.
A. STATEMENT OF PROFESSIONAL PREPARATION AND GOALS

- Attach this form to your typed (APA format) Statement of Professional Preparation and Goals

- Consult the relevant published objectives and competencies for your counseling program in the Counseling Program Manual

- Include the following components:

  • State your present interest and goals for graduate study, as well as your plans for utilizing your counseling degree.

  • After reviewing the program objectives and competencies for your counseling program, consider how the program objectives and competencies complement your career goals.

  • Describe and/or outline a concrete action plan for meeting the goals of your graduate study and other learning and professional experiences. For example, outline planned courses on a semester by semester basis.

CLINICAL MENTAL HEALTH COUNSELING PROGRAM

Katie Purswell, Ph.D., Co-Program Director
Ben T. Willis, Ph.D., Co-Program Director

MISSION STATEMENT:

The Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program prepares professional counselors to provide evidence-based culturally and developmentally competent counseling services that enhance the emotional, cognitive, behavioral, relational, and spiritual well-being of individuals, couples, families, and groups across the lifespan. Graduates of this program are prepared to counsel a wide variety of clients varying from those who seek help with everyday life concerns to those who struggle with significant emotional, cognitive, and behavioral challenges. The importance of advocacy, leadership, social justice, client empowerment, and wellness are emphasized throughout the program.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES:

The primary objective of the Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program is to prepare professionals for direct entry into and/or advancement in counseling and counseling-related positions in private and public human service organizations and systems. The program is designed to: (a) enhance knowledge of counseling concepts and practices; (b) provide individuals with the knowledge and skills necessary to function effectively as counselors in agency settings; (c) prepare individuals for certification/licensure in counseling; and (d) enhance individuals' employability in entry-level or advanced clinical positions in human service settings. The program offers a learning environment in which the student acquires the academic competencies of the profession, refines them through practical experience, and increases self-understanding, self-confidence, and personal effectiveness.

By the completion of their program of study, CMHC students will demonstrate:

1. Knowledge of each of the CACREP common core curricular areas including:
   a. Professional Orientation and Ethical Practice
   b. Human Growth and Development
   c. Career Development
   d. Helping Relationships
   e. Group Work
   f. Assessment
   g. Research and Program Evaluation

2. Knowledge of the history, philosophy, trends, organizations, credentials, professional issues, policies, and ethical and legal standards relevant to CMHC

3. Knowledge of the settings (outpatient, partial, inpatient, aftercare, emergency, etc.) and modalities (individual, couple, family, group, etc.) of CMHC

4. Knowledge of the roles and functions of CMH counselors, and how these intersect with those of other professionals

5. Ability to function as part of an interdisciplinary treatment team

6. Knowledge of the principles of mental health, wellness, and human development including prevention, education, consultation, intervention, and advocacy

7. Ability to use prevention, education, consultation, intervention, and advocacy to promote optimal mental health, wellness, and development

8. Ability to conduct individual, couple, family, and group counseling from intake to termination

9. Knowledge of evidence based interventions, including the ability to critically evaluate research relevant to CMHC

10. Ability to use relevant research and data to inform the practice of CMHC

11. Knowledge of processes that support clinical work including case conceptualization, assessment, diagnosis, treatment planning, developing and measuring outcomes, and record keeping.
12. Ability to use case conceptualization, assessment, diagnosis, treatment planning, the development and measuring of outcomes, and record keeping to support one's work with clients
13. Knowledge of crisis intervention principles, including the appropriate use of diagnosis during crisis intervention
14. Ability to apply crisis intervention principles to work with clients who have experienced crises, disasters, and other trauma-causing events
15. Knowledge of assessment and intervention strategies for clients at risk of harming themselves or others
16. Ability to use appropriate assessment and intervention strategies when working with those at risk of harming themselves or others.
17. Knowledge of substance use problems, including their etiology, assessment, and relationship to other client problems
18. Ability to use appropriate assessment and intervention strategies when working with clients experiencing substance use problems
19. Ability to alter all counseling processes so that they are multiculturally appropriate, including case conceptualization, assessment, diagnosis, treatment planning, intervention, ethical decision making, and outcome evaluation.
20. Ability to recognize one's own limitations as a counselor and to utilize supervision and referral when appropriate
21. Knowledge of management processes relevant to CMHC including program development, service delivery, and program evaluation
22. Ability to apply knowledge of management processes and mental health policies to improve CMHC services
23. Ability to advocate on behalf of clients and the profession

THE CLINICAL MENTAL HEALTH COUNSELING PROFESSION

According to the American Counseling Association, counseling is a professional relationship that empowers diverse individuals, families, and groups to accomplish mental health, wellness, education, and career goals. Clinical Mental Health Counseling is a specific field within the broader profession of counseling that provides services to clients who seek help with everyday life concerns as well as to those who struggle with significant emotional, cognitive, and behavioral challenges. Depending on the needs of the client, Clinical Mental Health Counselors may provide many services including advocacy, prevention and education, outpatient, intensive outpatient, inpatient, residential, and crisis/emergency. The settings in which Clinical Mental Health Counseling is performed are broad and include mental health agencies, college counseling centers, substance abuse and eating disorder treatment centers, psychiatric hospitals, and private practice to name a few. Across all settings, Clinical Mental Health Counselors may utilize individual, couple, family, and/or group counseling to help clients meet their goals. Regardless of the specific services or setting, Clinical Mental Health Counseling is a collaborative effort between the counselor and client that empowers clients to grow towards optimal emotional, cognitive, behavioral, relational, and spiritual well-being.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

The counseling profession is growing rapidly. According to the U.S. Department of Labor's Occupational Outlook Handbook for 2012 – 2022, employment opportunities for Clinical Mental Health Counselors are projected to grow "much faster than the average."
THE PROGRAM

The Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program is a 60-credit curriculum that leads to the Master of Science degree and fulfills all the educational requirements for licensure as a professional counselor in the state of Pennsylvania. The curriculum is divided into four categories: Foundations of Professional Counseling, Clinical Mental Health Counseling Courses, Clinical Experience, and Electives for Specialization. Required credits include course work in the principles and practice of counseling, three credits of practicum (100 hours of supervised counseling experience), and three credits of internship (600 hours of supervised counseling experience). Nine credits of electives are offered to provide students with opportunities for additional study in individual areas of interest and for development of skills in working with specific client populations. The program is accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) in Clinical Mental Health Counseling.

*Note: Students requiring two semesters to complete internship requirements must register for internship each semester. In these cases, internship becomes two 3-credit experiences.

ELECTIVES FOR SPECIALIZATION (9 credits required)*
Elective courses may be selected from other graduate counseling courses in the Department of Counseling and Human Services.

*Note: Students who require two semesters to complete internship, may use one of their 3-credit internship experiences as an elective.

TOTAL CREDITS FOR DEGREE: 60
Total Required Credits: 51
Total Elective Credits: 9
PRACTICUM

The practicum in Clinical Mental Health Counseling is attempted after the completion of a minimum of 24 credits of coursework to include the prerequisites COUN 501, 502, 503, and 504. It provides for the development of individual and group counseling skills under supervision. The practicum consists of 100 clock hours and must (1) include a minimum of 40 hours of direct service work with clientele appropriate to the student's program; (2) include a minimum of one hour per week of individual supervision by a program faculty member; (3) include a minimum of one and one-half hours per week of group supervision by program faculty with other students in practicum; (4) include a variety of professional activities other than direct service work; (5) allow the student to obtain audio- and/or videotapes of interactions with clientele for use in individual and group supervision; (6) allow the student to gain supervised experience in the use of a variety of professional resources such as appraisal instruments, computers, print and non-print media, professional literature, and research; and (7) include formal evaluation of the student's performance by a program faculty member.

INTERNSHIP

The internship in the Clinical Mental Health Counseling program is attempted after at least 36 credits of coursework have been completed. A prerequisite for attempting internship is successful completion of COUN 590 - Practicum in Clinical Mental Health Counseling. The internship requires the student to complete 600 clock hours of supervised field experience which must: (1) include a minimum of 240 hours of direct service work with clientele appropriate to the student's program; (2) include a minimum of one hour per week of individual supervision by a qualified field supervisor; (3) include a minimum of one and one-half hours per week of group supervision by program faculty; (4) include a variety of professional activities other than direct service work; (5) allow the student to obtain audio- and/or videotapes of interactions with clientele for use in individual and group supervision; (6) allow the student to gain supervised experience in the use of a variety of professional resources such as appraisal instruments, computers, print and non-print media, professional literature, and research; and (7) include formal evaluation of the student's performance by a program faculty member. The 600 hour requirement may be completed over either one or two semesters. For each semester of internship, students are required to register for three credits of the course (COUN 595).

PROGRAM ACCREDITATION

The Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program was recently transitioned from the previously existing Community Counseling Program. The Community Counseling Program has been accredited since 1992 by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP), a specialized accrediting body recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA). The program was accredited until 2014 in Community Counseling, when the program became accredited as a Clinical Mental Health Counseling program. Graduates meet all requirements for certification as a National Certified Counselor (NCC) and for the academic requirements for license in the state of Pennsylvania as well as many other states.

Prospectus of Study for Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program

Because of flexibility in course scheduling and differences in student needs, there is no “one way” of progressing through the CMHC program of study. For example, some students take advantage of Intersession and/or Summer courses, while others choose to take courses in the Fall and Spring semesters only. To determine the most appropriate schedule, students meet with their mentor each semester to enroll in courses. The maximum number of graduate credits that a student may attempt in one semester is 12. Full-time graduate student status requires a minimum of 6 credits per semester; however, students may take fewer or more credits per semester, depending upon their circumstances. Therefore, the prospectuses provided below are recommended course sequences.
