

Interession Portfolio and Capstone
Assessment Workshop &
Spring 2018 Assessment Project Planning Agenda
Friday January 26th, 2018
8:45 am to 1:00 pm – Rose Room, Brennan Hall

Learning outcomes – During this workshop and by the completion of the Spring Project, participants will:

- Examine best practices for incorporating portfolios/capstone work as a teaching-learning strategy
- Collaborate with colleagues to identify common competencies to be assessed across portfolios/capstone assignments in various disciplines.
- Develop a rubric for scoring/grading a portfolio/capstone assignment.
- Develop specific prompts for the portfolio/capstone assignment to assess selected competencies.
- Participate in an interdisciplinary assessment norming session and jury at the conclusion of Spring Semester

8:45am – 9:00am: Coffee and Make your own Yogurt Parfait with Granola and Fruit

9:00am – 9:50am: Introductions, Portfolio/Capstone Best Practices, and Discussion
-Facilitated by Amy Simolo, Faculty Development Specialist -- CTLE

9:50am – 10:15am: Assessable GE Competencies and AAC&U VALUE Rubrics: A starting point to discuss what we shall assess
-Facilitated by Tara Fay and Nicholas Truncale, Assessment Fellows -- OEA

10:15am – 10:25am Break

10:25am – 11:25am Assessment Rubric Development incorporating AAC&U VALUE rubric criteria to assess common competencies – “All In One” Assessment
-Facilitated by Amy Simolo and Nicholas Truncale, CTLE and OEA

11:25am – 12:00pm Breakout Session: Faculty break into groups to determine and discuss the additional prompt(s) to be added to existing portfolio/capstone assignments
-Facilitated by OEA and CTLE staff

12:00pm – 12:30pm Lunch and AQUA demonstration. AQUA is the assessment data collection digital tool that we will use to score the rubric we develop based on the portfolio/capstone work
-Facilitated by Richard Walsh and Nicholas Truncale, OEA

12:30pm – 1:00pm Description of the Interdisciplinary Assessment Norming Session and Jury
-Facilitated by Amy Simolo and Nicholas Truncale, CTLE and OEA
nota bene: There will be beer and wine during our spring norming session