Group Study

Negative-23

“The only other negative thing I can say is the private study rooms, I know that over this past summer you added a few more rooms and big tables to work on however it still is not nearly enough to accommodate the number of group-working students at the this school on a nightly basis. Other comments pointed to the need of sound proofing and enforcement of the use of group rooms by groups and not by individuals.

Response:

As the Library plans for the Reilly Learning Commons, group study rooms and space for collaborative projects are a top priority.

In February 2013, the Library piloted a program to enable students to reserve the two new group study rooms on the second floor for two hours a day. The pilot program was a success and is now a permanent method for making certain that these rooms are available to groups.
