Dear <First>,

Remember...wondering how Robbie, the Chinese food delivery man, made it up the Scranton hills so quickly...how good slices from Pepe's and hot wing subs from Goodfellas tasted...taking quarters from laundry money so you had enough for $1 Long Islands at Tinks...finding reasons not to study in the library's 24-hour room...attending 11 p.m. Mass with Fr. Hill at Madonna Della Strata?

Our lives have changed dramatically in ten years, as has life at the University. A new, modern student center has replaced good old Gunster at the center of campus, and today's students have never even attempted to send an e-mail on Tiger. But despite these changes, Scranton is still forging the same close relationships and sense of community that it instilled in all of us.

We hope you will join us in celebrating our ten-year reunion June 12-14, 2009. We've planned a number of activities, including a class dinner, a family picnic, and plenty of time to reconnect with old friends. (Read the rest of the brochure for more details.) No amount of planning, however, can substitute for your physical presence on campus — we need you, in person, to truly make this reunion a success. So mark your calendar, spread the word, and make your reservations now. It's time to remind this campus how real Scranton students party!

Be sure to check out our class' new website on at www.scranton.edu/myclasspage. We have an easy reunion registration link, featuring a special "who's coming" section, so you can see who is signed up to attend. Our class site also includes pictures from "then and now." Take a peek and see whom you recognize.

We can't wait to see you at the Reunion!
