It was on May 29, 2004 at our Baccalaureate Mass in the Byron Center that Father Pilarz reminded us, "Scranton friends show up." Over the past five years we have "shown up" at parties and weddings, weekends on the Jersey shore and even Parade Day. Now our 5 year Reunion is upon us and it's time to bring the celebration back to campus, and to remind the University that no matter what, the Class of 2004 always shows up for each other.

Over the past five years, our lives have been filled with exciting changes, and so has our campus. While a new student center and campus green have replaced Gunster, the same sense of community that we shared is alive on the Commons, in the halls of Brennan and St. Thomas and on the courts of Byron and Long. Reunion is a perfect opportunity for us to recapture our sense of community and share old memories, where we began our journey together. But it won't be the same if you are not there.

The Class of 2004 Committee is working with the Alumni Relations Office to plan a fun-filled weekend for our class. There are many Reunion events to choose from (see list inside brochure) including the opportunity to stay on campus in a townhouse or dorm with your friends. We especially hope everyone will come together for cocktails and our class dinner on Saturday night.

Our class dinner will be held in the new DeNaples Center, and there is a quote on the front of the building by Robert Southwell, S.J. that reads, "It's not where I breathe but where I love that I live" Isn't it time you came home to Scranton again? We can't wait to see you there!

THE CLASS OF 2004 COMMITTEE

"Stay that close, grow even closer. Dance at one another's weddings, stand as godparents for each other's kids. As a Jesuit friend of mine is fond of saying, "the conversation will get richer and the jokes will get funnier." The conversation among Scranton friends will be a consolation for you down all the days ahead. Don't waste love."

Rev. Scott R. Pilarz, S.J.
