

13. URAM AWARDS

The International Society for the Study of Human Ideas on Ultimate Reality and Meaning Offers two rewards.

The URAM Award for Excellence in Creative Writing is given to those contributors to the journal Ultimate Reality and Meaning, Interdisciplinary Studies in the Philosophy of Understanding, whose articles following the guidelines given by the “Notes for Contributors” meet the criterion of excellence accepted in the particular discipline involved and unearth the idea of ultimate reality and meaning of the subject matter in clarity and depth.

The jury is made up of Section Editors, who traditionally at the request of the Section Editor of English Literature, Prof. David J. Leigh, select three articles of the two previous years as the best. The one who gets more points is the winner of the Award.

The URAM Award for Excellence in Creative Endeavor for Research and Scholarship is granted to those men and women who by supporting the journal, promoting dialogue and cooperation between scholars from West and East, from South and North, between financially advantaged and financially less advantaged scholars and general readers, further and widen the horizon in a world of mediocrity for a more human world. Such exemplary activity is what creative endeavor for research and scholarship means and URAM acknowledges in its second Award.

These awards, signed by the President of the International Society, are presented during the biennial meetings.