Registration Form

Please print or type information.

Name: ______________________________________________________

Title/Department: ___________________________________________

Institution: __________________________________________________

Address: ____________________________________________________

City: ___________________________ State: ___ Zip: ________________

E-mail Address: __________________________ Daytime Phone __________

Conference Workshops
I am interested in the following workshops:
❑ Race: Beyond Black and White!
❑ Who Am I and What Is It To You? Issue of Identity Assimilation or Acculturation!
❑ She's Right, Opinionated, Smart and Savvy: She's the Boss!
❑ The Art of Managing Workforce Diversity
❑ Disparities in Healthcare: Why Are They So Sick?

Conference Fees
Conference Registration $ 35 each
University of Scranton Faculty/Staff Registration $25 each
Corporate Registration (10 or more): $300 (10 tickets)

Registration fees include pre-conference arts & literature open mike presentation, continental breakfast, awards luncheon, networking reception and cultural performance. Conference seating is limited. Registration will be on a first come, first served basis. *Registrations received after Saturday, April 30, 2005, will not be guaranteed.

Please Check One (Make checks payable to The University of Scranton)
❑ Check Enclosed  ❑ Money Order  Amount Enclosed: __________
❑ I require disability related accommodations. (If checked, please call 570-941-6645).

Complete this registration form and mail it with payment to:
Diversity Symposium 2005
The Office of Equity and Diversity
The University of Scranton
Scranton, PA 18510-4596

Or Register Online at www.scranton.edu/diversity
Keynote Speakers

Frank H. Wu

In 2004, Frank H. Wu became the ninth Dean of Wayne State University Law School in his hometown of Detroit. From 1999 to 2004, he served on the law faculty of Howard University, including two years as a clinic director. He has been an adjunct professor at Columbia University, a visiting professor at University of Michigan, and a teaching fellow at Stanford University.

Dean Wu is the author of "Yellow: Race in America Beyond Black and White" and co-author of "Race, Rights and Reparation: Law and the Japanese-American Internment." His writing has appeared on a professional basis in such periodicals as the Washington Post, Detroit Free Press, Chicago Tribune, Baltimore Sun, Chronicle of Higher Education, Legal Times and Asian Week.

Dean Wu serves as a trustee of Gallaudet University, the only university in the nation primarily for deaf students. He has taught at Deep Springs College, a highly-selective full-scholarship all-male school enrolling twenty-six on a student-run cattle ranch near Death Valley. He served briefly by appointment of the D.C. Court of Appeals on its Board of Professional Responsibility, which adjudicates attorney discipline matters, as well as two terms on Board hearing committees. He was appointed by Mayor Anthony Williams as Chair of the D.C. Human Rights Commission for 2001-02. He joined the Board of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights Education Fund in 2004. Dean Wu is an elected member of the American Law Institute, and a member of the Committee of 100, a civic group founded by Yo-Yo Ma, I.M. Pei, among others, to promote Asian American political participation, as well as a fellow of the American Bar Foundation.

He was named among the top twenty scholars in the nation by "Black Issues in Higher Education" in its twentieth anniversary issue. His media appearances have included the Oprah Winfrey show, "Newsweek," "Lehrer News Hour," "O'Reilly Factor," "Book Notes" with Brian Lamb, "Talk Back Live" on CNN, NPR, "Voice of America," and "Fox Morning Channel." He has hosted episodes of the "Asian America" PBS-syndicated television show.

Prior to his academic career, Dean Wu held a clerkship with the late U.S. District Judge Frank J. Battisti in Cleveland. He then joined the law firm of Morrison & Foerster in San Francisco, concentrating on complex litigation and devoting a quarter of his time to the representation of indigent individuals. He received a bachelor of arts degree from the Johns Hopkins University and a J.D. from the University of Michigan.

Dean Wu married to Carol L. Izumi. He received a bachelor of arts degree from the Johns Hopkins University and a J.D. from the University of Michigan.

Angela E. Oh

Angela E. Oh sets an example that youth of today should strive to follow. She is a dedicated and hardworking attorney, teacher, and public lecturer, who has achieved success and been recognized for her accomplishments in many different fields.

Oh's law firm, Oh & Barrera, LLP is based in Los Angeles and offers clients representation in state and federal criminal and regulatory matters. Services include internal investigations and risk management assessments, trial representation, and appellate advocacy.

In addition, because of the unique experiences of each partner, the firm also provides training, advice and counsel on anti-discrimination policies and practices to private, public and non-profit organizations.

On top of her busy schedule as an attorney, Oh has made time to serve on select commissions and boards, including the California Commission on Access to Justice, the Los Angeles Commission on Human Relations and the 9th Circuit Judicial Conference. She currently serves on the board of Women's Policy, Inc., and is also a member of the Board of Directors for Lawyers Mutual Insurance Company.

In June 1997, Oh received a great honor when former President Bill Clinton appointed her to the President's Initiative on Race. She served as part of a seven-member Advisory Board to the President, in an effort directed at examining how race, racism, and racial differences have affected the development of this nation.

Between 1998 and 2002, Oh left the full-time practice of law to study, teach, and write. As an accomplished lecturer, her speeches and writings reflect the opportunities and challenges that diversity presents. Oh's lectures have taken her into both national and international arenas, including Korea, the Middle East, Northern Ireland and the United Kingdom.

Today, she teaches a course titled "Race and American Law and Leadership for the 21st Century" at the University of California, Irvine. She is a respected and highly regarded speaker who captivates audiences by showing them different perspectives on life.

Conference Goals & Objectives

• To provide a forum for the intellectual exchange of ideas and cross cultural dialogue about the challenges and opportunities related to diversity in the workplace, the college campus and in the community
• To explore how the changing face of Northeastern Pennsylvania will impact all four quadrants.
• To promote the benefits of diversity on the college campuses and in communities of Northeast Pennsylvania and to develop strategies to effectively embrace our new neighbors.
• To provide resources to enhance the cultural competency of healthcare service providers and mental health practitioners.
• To bring corporate, community leaders and human service providers together to explore the challenges, complexities and opportunities of diversity.
• To celebrate the contributions and heritage of Asian Americans to our nation.

Who Should Attend

The target audience for the conference is:

• Business and Corporate Leaders
• Community Leaders
• Human Resources Professionals
• Healthcare Service Providers
• Mental Health Practitioners
• Human Services & Rehab Counselors
• Diversity and Multicultural Coordinators
• Student Leaders and organizational change agents

For Information or Directions to Campus

Contact the Office of Equity and Diversity at (570) 941-6645, or visit the Web site at www.scranton.edu/diversity.

Schedule at a Glance

8:00 – 9:00 am
Registration
Continental Breakfast

9:00 – 9:30 am
Opening Remarks and Greetings
Hannah B. Baille, Ph.D., Interim Vice President
Academic Affairs, The University of Scranton
Invocation
Rev. Ronald McKinney, S.J.

Welcome & Greetings
Rev. Scott R. Pilars, S.J., President
The University of Scranton

9:30 – 10:30 am
Keynote Address
Frank H. Wu, Dean
Wayne State University Law School

10:30 – 10:45 am
Questions & Answers

10:45 – 11:00 am
Break

11:00 – 12:15 pm
Concurrent Workshops

12:15 – 2:00 pm
Awards Luncheon
Angela Oh, Esq.
Attorney, teacher and lecturer
Oh & Barrera, LLP

May 6, 2005

The University of Scranton

Asian Week
Now with Bill Moyers

To celebrate the contributions and heritage of Asian Americans to our nation.

• To bring corporate, community leaders and human service providers together to promote diversity on the college campuses and in communities of Northeast Pennsylvania.

• To explore how the changing face of Northeastern Pennsylvania will impact all four quadrants.

• To provide a forum for the intellectual exchange of ideas and cross cultural dialogue on race from both a political/social science and scientific perspective.

Who Am I and What Is It To You? Issue of Identity Assimilation or Acculturation?
Colleges and universities nationwide are adopting multi-cultural education and this workshop will foster a candid discussion about race, ethnicity and identity. The panel will explore the benefits and cost of assimilation and acculturation.

She's Bright, Opinionated, Smart and Sexy: She's the Boss!
The response of women and men to women empowered to lead.

The Art of Managing Workplace Diversity
The panel will consist of representative from corporation that have been successful in recruitment and retention of a diverse workforce.

Disparities in Healthcare: Why Are They So Sick?
A panel discussion about the prevalence of chronic illnesses that disproportionately affect Hispanics, African Americans, Asian Americans and American Indians, and the dramatic differences in the health status and health outcomes among minority populations.